TEN BALLOTS CAST.

The Locality of the Convention Undecided.

THE DATE SET FOR JULY 3RD.

Strong Pleas Set Forth in Favor of San Francisco—Promising Indications.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD]

WASHINGTON, February 22.— The National Democratic Committee met in Willard's Hall at noon for the purpose of selecting the time and place for holding the next Democratic Convention. Ex-Senator W. H. Barnum presided and F. O. Prince acted as secretary. There was a full attendance of delegates, the only vacancy being in the membership from New York. After a brief discussion William Steinway was elected to fill the vacancy.

NAMES OF THE COMMITTEE.

The following are the members of the committee: Alabama, H. C. Semple; Arkansas, J. H. Fordyce; California, M. F. Tarpey; Colorado, C. S. Thomas; Connecticut, H. A. Barnum; Delaware, I. C. Grubb; Florida, Samuel Pasco; Georgia, Patrick Walsh; Illinois, W. C. Goudy; Indiana, J. E. McDonald; Iowa, W. I. Hayes; Kansas, C. W. Blair; Kentucky, H. D. McHenry; Louisiana B. F. Jonas; Maine, W. H. Clifford; Maryland, A. P. Gorman; Massachusetts, F. L. Prince; Michigan, I. M. Weston; Minnesota, P. H. Kelly; Mississippi, C. A. Johnston; Missouri, J. G. Prather; Nebraska, J. E. Boyd; Nevada, H. C. Ring; New Hampshire, A. W Sullivan; New Jersey, Miles Ross; New York, William Steinway; North Carolina, H. W. Rawson; Ohio, W. M. Armstrong; Oregon, A. H. German; Pennsylvania, W. L. Scott; Rhode Island, J. B. Barnabey; South Carolina, F. W. Dawson; Tennessee, A. F. Looney; Texas, O. T. Holt; Vermont, Hiram Atkins; Virginia, J. S. Barbour; West Virginia, H. S. Kuhn; Wyoming, M. E. Post; District Columbia, Wm. Dickinson.

SELECTING THE DATE.

On assembling the chairman stated that the first business order was the selection of a date for the holding of the National Democratic Convention. Senator Gorman offered a resolution fixing the date July 3d. next. This was vigorously opposed by Congressman Scott of Pennsylvania, present as proxy for Wm. A. Wallace. He read a long speech depicting the advantages which he believed would accrue to the Democratic party from a convention held as early as May 22. The Campaign should be made vigorous and aggressive by the selection of an early date and a distinct and early enunciation to the American people of the principles which shall be wrought into the Democratic platform.

Dawson, of South Carolina, followed in the same vein. Another proposition was made to fix June 5th as the date, but this, as well as the early date suggested by Scott, was objected to by Senator Gorman, who declared that in view of the fact that there were some differences of opinion in the Democratic party upon the tariff question, it would be impolitic to hold the convention before the Democratic House of Representatives had an opportunity to agree upon a tariff measure which would bring together the dissenting opinions and the united support of the party. When such bill had been agreed upon, the Democrats could fasten upon the Republican Senate the responsibility of failure to enact a law revising the existing tariff law and correcting its evils.

Senator Pasco, of Florida, briefly expressed himself in favor of an early date.

The committee finally, by a vote of 28 to 19, agreed that the convention be held on July 3d next.

A short recess was then taken.

AFTER THE RECESS.

Cox arose and addressed the meeting in behalf of New York. He said that generous offers of accommodation and hospitality were made. As to transportation, New York would stand on a par with any city, and as to journalistic and telegraphic communication, it was far ahead. If the convention desired salubrity and healthful comfort, without which no convention could do very well, New York should receive the suffrage of the committee. He declared that there was no consideration contemplated by any one connected with New York as candidates, but as to the election, that was another thing. The vote of the State of New York determined the last three presidential elections and would decide the result of the next, He regagded the choice of New York as almost indispensable to victory.

PLEAS FOR ST. LOUIS.

Mayor Francis, of St. Louis, contended that the convention should be held in the same city which had been the scene of the memorable convention of 1876, which had broken the long record of Republican success. (Applause.) St. Louis would defray the expenses of every member of the committee, and the telegraphic, transportation and hotel facilities would be unsurpassed.

Senator Vest, in seconding the claims of St. Louis, said that if there was anything in the location which would enable the party to continue a brave and honest administration of the Government, no sort of local or personal feeling ought to interfere but he did not think holding the convention in any one of the cities named would influence the election. He urged that the convention be held in a Democratic city, and deprecated the practice of feeding Republican cities from Democratic sponge-cake (laughter). None of the surplus fund of the Republican party went to the Democratic cities, and the reason for the success of that party in the past, and its formidable aspect at the present time, was that it stood by its political localities. The convention would be a short one, and its candidate would be easily named.

CALIFORNIA'S CLAIMS.

Horatio B. King, of Nevada, urged that the convention be held in San Francisco, believing that the Democratic party would be greatly benefitted thereby. He referred to the hospitality of the people of that city, as attested by their recent welcome of the Grand Army of the Republic and regarded that as an earnest of what weight it would be if the convention were held in San Francisco.

Tarpey, of California, subscribed to every word uttered by Senator Vest. If one grain he said could be put in the balance in favor of the Democratic party, and the gentleman could show that by holding the convention in Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati or New York, that grain of sand would fructify and bring forth Democratic fruit in November, he would not stand here asking that the convention be given to San Francisco. The Democrats of California and the Pacific Coast have been Spartans in the cause, and while they held forth the hand of fellowship to their fellow Democrats of the East and South, and while they offered to harbor the convention at their firesides they did not wish to have the pleasure of its company if they did not feel they could be of service in the great battle about to be opened. That section was quick fo resent an insult and prompt to return kindness, and he believed that if the convention came to San Francisco the response of California would be a glorious and overwhelming majority for the Democratic nominee.

THE FIRES OF PATRIOTISM

That would be lighted on the pinnacles of the Sierra Nevadas by the gentlemen who would sit in the conventiou and select the nominee would be carried triumphantly as flambeaux by the gentlemen of the returning march, until the blaze was quenched in the water of the Atlantic. Every man of California, Democrat and Republican, would turn in and help to redeem his fellow citizens' promise. They feel that they could do good or they would not ask the convention to partake of their hospitality. They promised to pay all the expenses of coming, using "all" in its most amplified sense. There would be carriages ad lib. [laughter.] and two additional telegraph wires would be put between San Francisco and Chicago, which, with those already in use, would accommodate all the business offered. He did not claim that San Francisco should have the convention because she could accommodate them, or because its people were hospitable, nor because it had the finest climate in the world, but this Democratic body sitting as custodians of the interests of the Democratic party should take into account the fourteen votes which were trembling in the balance, and San Francisco should have thoughtful consideration at its hands. [Applause.]

THE BALLOTS.

Every person except members of the committee were then excluded, and the balloting began. The following were the ballots:

BALLOTS.	San Francisco.	New York.	Chicago.	St. Louis.	Cincinnati
First	15	2	13	14	1
Second	15	2	15	14	1
Third	15	0	16	15	1
Fourth	15	0	16	16	0
Sixth	15	0	16	16	0
Seventh	18	0	15	14	0
Eighth	18	0	15	13	1
Ninth	19	0	14	13	1
Tenth	17	0	15	14	1

At the conclusion of the tenth ballot, no choice having been made, the committee adjourned until ten tomorrow.

AFTER THE ADJOURNMENT.

The committee were hardly adjourned for the day before the rival delegations resumed work. The strength shown by the San Francisco balloting was a surprise to the people generally as it was believed that the ranks of its supporters would break after the first three ballots. The principal delegations are all confident to-night and each expresses a hope in the ultimate success of its own city. So far as can be learned no combination has been formed. It is asserted by many people that San Francisco has polled the largest number of votes it will get, but this is denied by friends of the Pacific coast.

THE SITUATION OUTLINED.

At a late hour to-night there are many who claim that the chances for San Francisco securing the Democratic National Convention are most flattering, and that from two to five additional votes have been secured. On the other hand there are many who hold to the opinion that Congressman Mason of Chicago expressed to-night when he said: "I have regarded the fight all along as between Chicago and St. Louis, with a number of complimentary votes for San Francisco. I believe that a number of delegates voted for San Francisco not because they desired the convention to be held there but simply because the San Francisco men are such big-hearted generous fellows. The long distance is a great bar to San Francisco, otherwise the Golden Gate City would get it. I look upon the adjournment as favorable to Chicago.

"EXAMINER" ENTERPRISE.

The Washington edition of the San Francisco Examiner was issued this morning, the motive of publication being to push the claims of San Francisco for the Democratic National Convention. It contained, besides the general telegraphic news, 110 interviews with prominent men on the political situation. The edition consisted of 10,000 copies.

COMMENTS IN CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, February 22.—The Daily News' Washington special says that the convention fight is practically settled in favor of Chicago. Several committeemen arrived this morning who had been counted for othe cities, but have come out in favor of Chicago. Wyoming, Idaho, Colorado and Kansas men have changed from California to Chicago, and William Steinway, who will vote for Chicago, has been elected to fill the vacancy from New York. The probability is that the question will be settled on the second ballot, as some of the Chicago men have agreed to cast one vote for other places.

THE YAQUI WAR.

Desperate Combat with Mexican Troops.

MANY KILLED AND WOUNDED.

The "Braves" Escape—Efforts Being Made to Coop Them Up in the Mountains.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD]

NOGALES, Ariz, February 22.—The Mexican troops under Captain Encisco, had another hot fight with the rebellious Yaqui Indians, at the village of Batachi, in the wilds of the Bucate mountains. The Indians were well fortified in a strong position, where they resisted the attack of the soldiers with commendable bravery. The battle lasted from 2 o'clock in the afternoon till dark. Next morning the military renewed the attack of the fortifications, but found that the Indians had left during the night carrying off their wounded and some of the dead leaders. The bodies of ten dead Indians were found in adjacent pits. The military forces lost two killed and a large number wounded. General Guerra, who commands the forces fighting the Yaquis, has ordered the troops stationed at Potam to form a combination with Encisco, with the object to reinforce the troops stationed at other points in the field.

FUTURE PROSPECTS.

Of late the Mexican troops have been getting the best of every fight had with the rebellious Yaqui Indians, and this fact gives rise to the hope that the great Yaqui war may be yet brought to a close and peace once more be restored in southern Sonora. The fight occurred a few days since, but the news has only just reached here. Captain Encisco is in hot pursuit of the Indians with a reinforcement of fifty men of the 12th battalion, and is well supplied with the munitions of war.

A DISTRESSING DISASTER.

During a heavy rainstorm the other day the large building, Cruz de Piera, Sonora, used as headquarters for the 25th battalion, fell in, killing four soldiers and wounding many others. The storm was one of the most severe ever experienced in that section. A large number of troops are ill from exposure consequent on the destruction of the shelter.

FROM OCEANICA.

Hawaiian Politics—Disastrous Cyclone and Tidal Wave.

SAN FRANCISCO, February 22.—The Oceanic steamer Australia, arrived from Honolulu this morning.

The Hawaiian Gazette, commenting upon the recent decision of the Supreme Court upholding the King's absolute veto power, says: "While there is some dissatisfaction over the decision on it, until constitutional measures can be brought into play for overcoming this source of obstruction to free legislation, adverse public opinion will expend itself upon the decision in a legitimate way.

No one doubts the good faith of the judiciary in the matter, and there is no agitation or movement or plan of campaign on foot to disturb the result. There is nothing which threatens in the slightest degree the peace of the community, and there is a general feeling that Hawaiian politics will run in satisfactory and constitutional grooves."

WARRING ELEMENTS.

The Australia also brings information of a cyclone and tidal wave which occurred at Mahukona on Feb. 5th and 6th. Wharves and part of a warehouse were swept away. A portion of a railway track was washed away and the office and locomotive roundhouse partly wrecked. Other property was destroyed along the water front, but no fatalities are reported.

NATIONAL POLITICS.

Oration by Chauncey M. Depew at Chicago.

HE COMMENTS ON CLEVELAND.

And Expresses His Opinions on the Administration of the Country.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD]

CHICAGO, February 22.—Chauncey Depew addressed a large audience at the Music hall this afternoon at the celebration of Washington's birthday by the Union League club. Speaking on the "political mission of the United States," in the course of his remarks he referred to the West, and said that there was no parallel to its growth and its influence upon the world. He reviewed the career of Lincoln and reverted to the need of one-term presidency, saying that the best of presidents have lowered the standard of administration when seeking a second term. The present executive is highly esteemed for his singular honesty and directness of purpose, but remarkable for inexperience in the duties of government and ignorance of the great issues before the country.

WITH PERFECT FRANKNESS

And honest intention to carry out his pledges he defied the traditions of the party in bold utterances for civil service reform. He both understood what he was promising and believed that he had the courage and power to make good his word. The best sentiment of the country is overwhelmingly behind him in this question, and the canvass of 1888 opens with tremendous advantages. An auxiliary force of 100,000 faithful workers has relegated common virtue to the rear and brought the spoils system to the front. By constitutional prohibition the President should be made ineligible for a second term as the peculiarities of his position on retirement from the office prevent his participation in ordinary business avocations. As a citizen he should receive an adequate pension for life and though on the retired list should still be subject to call for any public duty where his experience, character and ability would be of value. Thus his administration would be free from temptation and his ambitions would be impelled with a resolute and unflinching endeavor to win the plaudits of the present and the admiration and fortitude of posterity. On the question of

FREE TRADE VS. PROTECTION.

He took strong grounds in favor of protection, and treating the subject of America's loss of supremacy on the seas he said that the aid given by foreign governments is beyond the power of private enterprise, and the subsidies given by them is the cause of the disappearance of the American flag from the ocean.

Depew closed by speaking at length eulogistically of Washington, and said that the Republic will live so long as it reveres his memory and emulates his virtues. The speech was received with great applause. In the evening there was a grand banquet at the club house, at which Justice Harlan was the principal speaker.

HARLAN'S ADDRESS.

The remarks of Justice Harlan were devoted to answering the charges of the slowness of work of the Supreme Court. In 1886 the docket had increased to 1396 cases, of which 457 were disposed of. During the term the court moved with all the rapidity possible. The remedy for the defect in our judicial system, Justice Harlan said, is with another branch of the government. It is for Congress to provide an adequate judicial force for the prompt disposal of business in all the Federal courts, including the intermediate court or court of appeals, which may finally determine many cases that under the existing legislation may be brought to the Supreme Court.

Congressman Butterworth spoke on "Commercial relations with our American neighbors," and Andrew Carnegie on "United States citizenship."

A GENERAL HOLIDAY.

How Washington's Birthday Was Celebrated.

G. C., participated. Governor Waterman and staff were present and left the Occidental Hotel about 1:30 o'clock, escorted by troops of Hussars.

ARRIVAL AT JACKSONVILLE.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. February 22 — The Presidential train arrived this afternoon, and was greeted with a salute of twenty-one guns and the acclamations of an immense multitude of people. On the arrival of the Presidential party at the Exposition building, a salute was fired. The President, Mrs. Cleveland and party were escorted to the platform in front of the north gallery. Colonel Daniels delivered an address welcoming the President and Mrs. Cleveland to Florida on behalf of the Sub-Tropical Exposition, the management of the city of Jacksonville, the Board of Trade, the State of Florida and her people.

A SHORT SPEECH.

The President, in replying, said: "I intend that during my brief visit official cares shall give way to the freedom which you kindly invite, in the hope and expectation that with the enlarged conception of the greatness and beauty of my country which I shall here acquire, I shall return to my post of duty better able to serve you and my fellow citizens." The speech was greeted with most vociferous applause.

President Cleveland resumed his seat, but the applause continued, and at length Mr. C. H. Jones suggested the people's desire to see Mrs. Cleveland. When the President led her forward there was a perfect tempest of cheering. The ladies and gentlemen on the platform were then introduced to the President and others of the party, after which all returned to the hotel.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

A Bill Regarding the Disposal of Public Lands.

WASHINGTON, February 22.— The House Committee on Public Lands today completed the bill reclassifying and regulating the methods of disposal of public lands. Still Coming.

TUCSON, A. T., February 22.—Five special excursion trains forty-five cars in all, of a Raymond & Whitcomb excursion, passed to-day on their way to California.

Judge Lamar's Absent-Mindedness.

I remember a joke told about Lamar when he was in the Senate. He has the reputation of being given to writing and thinking up poetry, and his appearance very often as he walks along the avenue is very pensive and absent-minded. At one time when he was living at Willard's he met a friend as he was coming from the Senate down by the National Hotel.

"Come up and have dinner with me," said Lamar after they had shaken hands.

The friend accepted the invitation and started to walk up the street with Mr. Lamar. He began the conversation, and soon was interested in telling about some occurrence at home, but Lamar had fallen into one of his reflective moods and was not listening to anything the friend said. The space between the National Hotel and Willard's was passed over, and finally arriving on the pavement in front of the latter hotel, Lamar suddenly pulled himself together, and looking around, he recollected that he had a friend with him. He had not heard a word the gentleman had said, but turning to him, stretched out his hand and said:

"Well, this is my hotel. I am very much obliged to you for walking up the street with me. Good-bye," and turned to go in.

But the man was not so easily shaken. He laughed and said:

"Beg pardon, Senator, yon invited me to dinner, and I am not going to lose it."

"So I did, so I did," cried Lamar quickly, and taking his friend by the arm he went in.—[Louisville Courier-Journal.

SOME GOOD SPORT.

Meeting of the Olympic Club at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, February 22.—Probably the most successful outdoor meeting of any athletic club of the Pacific coast was that of the Olympic Club to-day. The two events of chief interest were the 100 and 220 yards dashes by Harry Bethune, a professional, from Toronto, Canada. Although not in the best of condition, he being under the physician's care, he tied the world's record on the 100 yards dash and lowered the Pacific coast record on the 220 yards dash. The former he made in 9 4-5th seconds and the latter in 22 1-5 seconds, beating the Coast record by two-fifths of a second. W. H. Quinn threw the twelve-pound hammer 93 feet, beating the Coast record by six inches. Two special features which had been announced were not carried out. G. E. Perrie did not attempt to beat the world's record in putting the sixteen-pound shot, nor did Walter A. Scott attempt to establish a Pacific coast record for one and a half miles. The weather was excellent and the spectators were highly pleased.

BAGGAGE BUSINESS.

New Rules Instituted by the Santa Fe Company.

SAN FRANCISCO, February 22.—P. Walsh, general baggage agent of the Santa Fé system, has issued a new set of rules to govern the baggage business of the Atlantic and Pacific, California Central and California Southern railroads. Baggage hereafter will be checked from stations on those lines to all points east of the Missouri river without transfer. Only wearing apparel and articles of personal use, such as the courts in the past have decided to be baggage will be checked or accepted. Merchandise, machinery, musical instruments, sewing machines, explosives, perishable articles, jewelry and goods of extraordinary value will not be received as baggage. As on the other transcontinental lines the excess baggage rate will hereafter be 12 per cent. of the lowest first-class unlimited ticket fare, per 150 pounds. This rate will apply to and from all points east of Barstow.

MORMONS MULCTED.

Progress of the Government's Investigation.

SALT LAKE, February 22.—In the testimony to-day of Chief Clerk, Jas. Jack, before Examiner Sprague, in the Government suits against the Mormon church to recover certain property, witness admitted that the church was owner of 800 shares of Salt Lake City gas Company of the par value of $100. The shares are now valued at $80,000. Receiver Dyer at once demanded the stock and it was surrendered him. It is expected that other church property now in the hands of private individuals will soon be located and placed in the hands of the government.

Frightful Explosion at Duluth. Many Injured.

DULUTH, Minn., February 22—This morning at 7:15, an explosion of dynamite occurred in a rock cut on Fourth street. Eighteen men were injured. Eight are now in the hospital. One man died on reaching the hospital and the others cannot live through the day. Men and rocks were hurled many feet by the shock. The explosion was caused by some cartridges fired last Friday but had not exploded untill the men had resumed work about them. A few taps on the drill served to set off the unexploded cartridges.

THE SANTA FE'S WORKS.

Mr. Geo. W. Luce, Contracting Agent of the Southern Pacific Co., Resigns.—Notes.

The work of construction of the Atchison Topeka and Santa Fe Company's branches in this country is progressing finely and it is believed that a few weeks more of such weather as has existed lately will give the company ample time in which to finish everything now being constructed. A great deal of delay has been caused by the scarcity of building materials, but yesterday a gentleman prominently connected with the construction department informed the HERALD'S representative that plenty of material was on hand at San Diego to finish every foot of track now being built. There are now 10,000 tons of steel rails at San Diego, and a large number of ties are expected daily. From present prospects the new line to San Diego will be in operation within the next ninety days. Just outside of this city is a force of graders consisting of sixty teams and the requisite number of men to operate them rapidly. This force is now crossing the line of Colonel Baker's land, and will strike the city boundaries some time Friday evening, and Saturday night the line will be graded to its connection with the Ballona branch. This will complete the grade from this city to Fulton Wells, as it is now named. By the middle of next week a very large force of men will be put to work at Santa Fé Springs to grade towards Anaheim. Five miles of the grade from Anaheim toward Santa Fé Serings is now complete, and the distance the force at the last-nemed place will have to grade before the connection is made is about seven miles. From Anaheim to Orange the distance is about four miles, and in three weeks' time it will be completed. When this is finished, the entire grade from this city to Orange will be ready for the track. At Orange the wood connects with that part of the line already in operation to San Juan By-the-Sea. The road from San Juan By-the-Sea to Oceanside is almost ready for the rails. The grading is finished, but work on the large bridges and trestle works has been much delayed owing to the lack of material One of these bridges is about ninety feet high, and the other is one thousand two hundred feet long. When they are finished the road will be ready for the rails all the way, but before that time—by next Wednesday or Thursday, a force of men will start at a point three miles south of San Juan By-the-Sea to lay the track to Oceanside and will rush it as fast as possible.

As soon as the grade is finished to this city and to Anaheim, a portion of the graders will be organized into a track-laying force and sent to Inglewood to lay the rails from that place to Redondo Beach. The grading to that place is progressing finely, and will be completed in two weeks' time. There are no bridges or trestle work to be constructed, and the tracklaying can be accomplished very rapidly. It will not take more than a week to put the track down, and it can be ballasted in two or three days more. In a week a force of men will commence laying track to San Jacinto from Perris, and the road will be completed in a week or ten days, and ready for operation. The distance is only eighteen miles, but the line passes through a most valuable part of the country. The road to Mentone from San Bernardino will be completed by this evening, and the tracklayers will be sent elsewhere at once. Thus it will be seen that the Santa Fe Company is soon to have several new branches open, and the statement that ninety days is sufficient time in which to complete the work now on hand is not all extravagant.

A Resignation.

Mr. Geo. W. Luce, the handsome contracting agent of the Southern Pacific Co. in this city, has tendered his resignation for that position, and will accept a responsible position with J. D. Horton & Co. Mr. Luce has been connected with the Southern Pacific Co. in many positions for the past twelve years, being, a portion of that time contracting agent at San Francisco. He is one of the best posted men in the railway service in this city, and his friends regret to see him leave the service. Mr. H. A. Smith, a gentlemen who has been employed by the Southern Pacific Co. as collector, has been appointed to fill his place, and has already entered upon the discharge of his duties.

Daylight Coming.

The Southern Pacific officials are at last beginning to see daylight through their freight troubles, and accordingly they feel much elated. Tuesday night between sixty and seventy carloads of delayed freight was brought to the warehouse in this city, and the same night about twenty carloads of diverted freight was brought in from Deming. There is very little more delayed freight at that place, and it is hoped that in a short while there will not be a car of delayed freight on the entire line. The yards in this city also show a much better condition, being nearly clear of all cars.

A New Office.

Mr. Geo. D. Phillips has been appointed the Denver and Rio Grande Railway's excursion agent in this city and will operate excursions eastbound from Southern California during the summer season. His parties will go East via the Southern Pacific Co. to Ogden, the D. & R. G. to Pueblo and the Missouri Pacific to points east of that place. He has established an office in the Baker Block.

The car containing Chas. Crocker yesterday was carried by mistake as far as Pomona, but was hauled back to Savanah, where it was met by E. J. Baldwin, who took Mr. Crocker and party in carriages and showed them the beauties of Santa Anita, Arcadia and surrounding country. The party, after being returned to the car, was whirled to its destination as described elsewhere.

SAD SUICIDE.

Mrs. Sarah E. Best Cuts Her Throat While Insane.

A very sad suicide occurred yesterday morning on the corner of Ventura street and Union avenue. Mrs. Sarah E. Best, wife of John Best, a carpenter, in a temporary fit of insanity cut her throat with a razor and was not found until life was extinct. The story of her death is best told by those who testified at the inquest held by the Coroner yesterday afternoon. The husband, John Best, said: I reside on the corner of Ventura street and Union avenue, Los Angeles, and am a carpenter by occupation. The deceased is my wife. We have been married twelve years. She has been ailing for a long time. Nothing has attended her, but she would not do anything the doctor wanted her to do and would not take any medicine. She always wanted to be alone. Two weeks ago I had a nurse for her and she would not keep her. I then got a girl and she was sick and left. She appeared better during the last five or six days than she has been for four months. This morning she got up and got the breakfast and she seemed all right when I left the house about half past seven o'clock. I did not get back home till noon to-day. She never said at any time that she would take her own life.

A. F. Jones testified: I reside in Los Angeles and am a grocer by occupation. I have known the deceased about one year. The last few weeks I have been told that she has been sick, and that her mind was wandering. This morning about 10 o'clock I was out taking orders for groceries, and I stopped about a block from where Mr. Best lives. While there, Mrs Camp came over to me and asked me to go over to Mr. Best's as Mrs. Best was in the water-closet and had the door locked, and that she was afraid something was wrong. I went over and took a hatchet and pried open the door of the water-closet and found the deceased lying on the floor on her left side. There was a large pool of blood at her feet and I saw that her throat had the appearance of being cut She was all covered with blood. I then notified the Coroner.

Anna Camp testified: I reside with my parents in Los Angales. My father is a piano-tuner by occupation. I have known the deceased about four months. I know she has been ailing for the last four weeks. About three weeks ago she was very sick and confined to her bed. She was out of her head at that time, and she has been ever since. She has had a nurse until last week, but has not had any person since. She has been acting strangely and made queer remarks. I last saw her alive yesterday afternoon. About a quarter to 9 o'clock this morning a daughter of the deceased came to our house and said that she could not find her mamma and that she thought she had gone off. About one hour afterwards she came again and said her mamma had not come home yet and that wherever she had gone, she had not taken her hat. I then went over to see if I could find her. I tried the water-closet door and found it locked on the inside. I then climbed up on a barrel and saw the deceased lying on the floor. I thought she had fainted. My mother then went for assistance, and Mr. Jones broke open the door. I saw blood on the floor. I never knew her to have any quarrel with any person. Never heard her say she would taker her own life.

The jury found "that the deceased came to her death by a knife wound in the throat, inflicted with a razor, with itent to commit suicide, while temporarily insane."

FLORIDA.

One of Her Sons is Not Enamored of Her.

EDITORS HERALD—I see in almost every issue of the Weekly Times, one of our newspapers published here in this State, some diabolical or envious item published against California. Now, I, am a native of the State of Florida, and ought to know something about affairs here, and think I do. I see "bogus sales," etc., against California; also "blizzards," and all such. As for Florida, I consider that she has seen her best days. Florida is furious on account of travel that has been turned from her by reason of her railroad extortions and real estate deceptions. Now, Mr. Editor, for one, thank the State of California for what she has done for our people in the State of Florida; for, had it not been for the cut rates in railroad and real estate business in California, we would have been more depressed than at present. I never see anything in California papers against our lovely State, and sometimes think you are people who pursue the motto, "Live and and let live."

Do you ever have the "bogus fever" out there? We are subject to it here, and had it for a quite a while in the southern part of the State. This, I feel, is one great drawback to Florida. Our honorable Board of Health reported the fever out of this State some time before it was gone and and the quarantine was takendown. I could not call it yellow fever, for our board of health said it was not; therefore I must submit.

We do not have blizzards here, but sometimes a little thunderstorm that scatters the green fruit and almost strips the trees of their bark. As for drouths, we know not what it is to have one, yet sometimes we think our orange trees will die before it will rain.

It is not worth while to mention other frivolous points this time, but we hope our newsmen will not overestimate affairs in future. The principal disadvantages of our State I shall not now descant on. Is the State of California self-sustaining? I can answer for my own State in the negative. I have lived in several counties in this State and find the soil about the same as a whole throughout the State. The larger portion of the lands are too poor to describe.

Levyville, Levy Co., Fla., Feb. 14, 1887.
WYOXEY.

A Level-Headed Missourian.

California has a great deal of grit in her people as well as gold in her hills. The proposal to entertain the National Democratic Convention is being seriously entertained. By reducing the fare for the round trip from Missouri river points to $40, the citizens expect to induce the National Committee to hold its quadrennial convention in that place. The idea is not a bad one, neither for the party nor the State. The Pacific States have not received the consideration their merits demand. Besides, such a consideration would remove a large proportion of the evil influence that surrounds conventions in the Eastern States. Although the nominations will be virtually made long before the convention meets yet it would be but proper and right to evade influences that have had too much voice in the past. San Francisco is an excellent point, and if St. Louis is not selected, we hope San Francisco will be.—[Moberly (Mo.) Monitor.

Sudden Death.

Frank King, a native of Germany, 63 years of age, was found dead in his stable yesterday afternoon. At the inquest held by Coroner Meredith last evening Mrs. King stated that her husband had complained of pains internally at different times, and had suffered from the rheumatism for 24 years, but had never been confined to the house. Yesterday morning he left home with his buggy and on returning he took the horse into the stable. His wife was standing outside and hearing a noise as if something had fallen down, she went inside and found her husband lying on the ground unable to speak. Assistance was called, but it was too late. The Coroner's jury rendered a verdict of death from natural causes.

MONROVIA.

The Most Inviting Sale of the Season.

During the phenomenal growth of Southern California, there have been a number of beautiful cities and towns sprung up as if by magic, all doubtless having their particular advantages and resources. But amongst all we dare say there has not been another which can favorably compare with the rapid growth of the city of Monrovia. In the month of May, 1886, the beautiful slope upon which now stands the largest city of its age on earth, was a field of waving grain locked by the laws of the land in the world-renowned Santa Anita and Duarte ranchos (estate of E.J. Baldwin.) About that date a negotiation was consummated by which this magnificient site came into the possession of some of the most enterprising and wealthy citizens of Southern California, too well known to need mention. It was the unanimous desire of this syndicate to make the town, which they were about to lay out, California's fairest and favorite city. How well they have succeeded may be seen to-morrow, February 24, by a trip on the 9 A. M. train, California Central railroad. But, for the benefit of those who wish to know before that time, we will say—Monrovia has an actual population of 2500 people, magnificient hotel, solid granite and beautiful brick business buildings, costly and elegant residences, lawns and orchards, wide shady streets, pure mountain water piped to every lot free of charge, and supplied at actual cost of maintenance, two modern street-car lines now in operation, a rapid transit railroad now more than half completed to Los Angeles, with terminal grounds at the Pico House, a gas company, with thousands of feet of large iron pipe now laying in all parts of the city, two banks, with immense deposits, and a population of which any city in the world would be proud, consisting of many of this continent's most prominent literary and commercial representatives. The wealth of this city will serve as a recommendation to it and a guarantee of its beauty and solidity. There are more millionaires who have their residences within three miles of this city than all Southern California besides. The resources of this city must not be overlooked. It is bounded on the east by the famous Duarte rancho, where are grown thousands and thousands of acres of the finest oranges in the world, of which all have heard; on the west by the famous E. J. Baldwin property—the products of this large estate is enough alone to supply the markets of the entire valley; on the south by the best and most productive farming section of Los Angeles county; on the west by the Sierra Madre mountains, which furnish an inexhaustible supply of pure mountain water for domestic and irrigating purposes. In the most central location, and within the incorporate limits of this beautiful city, is situate the Pacific View addition, which for location, water, street car accommodations, etc., etc., cannot be equaled for residence purposes in California. One-half of this splendid property was placed upon the market some time since and sold to parties to make improvements, and to-morrow the remainder will be sold at auction on the ground on easy terms and long time. We sell in this way so purchasers can fix their own prices, as we know they will appreciate the value on sight. Excursion trains leaves Santa Fe depot at 9 A. M. Tickets, round trip 50 cents, including dinner. Call on Cyrus A. Campbell, Manager, 114 West First street, Los Angeles.

Providing Against Scarcity.

The steamer Southern California is now discharging 1800 tons of Wellington coal at San Pedro. This timely supply breaks the back of the coal famine, and Walter S. Maxwell, the owner of the steamer, thinks he will be able to keep the market supplied, and the prices down to their normal condition. Mr. Maxwell feels that he has been unjustly abused for the late extortionate prices to which coal reached in this market. He says there were reasons for it over which he had no control. In the first place the horrible disaster at the Wellington mine closed operations for a long time. Then a "corner" was made by the dealers in San Francisco who could have relieved the market, and they sent coal up there to $20 and $25 a ton. Unfortunately the cessation at the mine caught Mr. Maxwell without a supply with which to tide over the difficulty, and he was compelled to buy in San Francisco at the inflated rates. He is, however, determined not to be caught again in the same trap. He is now having built at San Pedro large bunkers where he will have stored this summer many thousand tons of coal for next winter's consumption, and proposes to run an additional steamer for his trade here and at San Diego. The steamship Santa Maria is chartered by Mr. Maxwell to supply his yard in San Diego. With these two vessels carrying coal during the summer, it will prevent any possible coal famine next winter.

Mrs. Helen Hunt Jackson the great novelist says: "San Fernando is one of the few places that I can visit twice." Go and see it. Excursion about March 1st. We have pure artesian water at San Fernando. The San Fernando Land & Water Co., have put in over twenty miles of water main.

Miss S. J. Hammond's entire stock of fine millinery will be sold at auction, sale commencing Thursday afternoon, February 23th, at 2 o'clock, at 26 South Spring street.

The Fisheries Treaty.

Whoever will examine the treaty framed by the late commission which sat in Washington and compare it with the treaty of 1818, which has been at the root of all our fishery troubles, will see at once that the treaty now presented for ratification gives us great advantages over that of 1818. The fact is, the treaty of 1818 was one of the most monstrous compacts ever assented to by a free and independent power. Under the settlement of 1791 we possessed all the advantages of equal rights to the fisheries along the Canadian Coast. There was, under it, no question of a line of exclusion reaching from headland to headland, nor was the right of refuge in Canadian ports, the right of free navigation or the right to purchase bait in question under that original settlement. But the treaty of 1818, by a most unaccountable deference to the demands of Great Britain by our plenipotentiaries, placed American fishermen at the mercy of that power. The headland theory and all the other perplexities sprang from this one-sided treaty. So great to the Canadians were the advantages secured by it that when the Washington treaty was framed, in 1846, the provisions of that of 1818 were merely in part suspended for the term to which the duration of the former treaty was limited. On its expiry two years ago the whole international foundation of our relations with reference to the fishery question fell back upon the one-sided treaty of 1818. The British Government and the Colonial authorities buttressed themselves behind the old interpretations of this treaty, and they were so strongly fortified by its terms and evident meaning, that we were bound hand and foot. Harsh as were the steps taken by the colonial authorities, backed by the cutters and power of Her Majesty's Government, we could not successfully claim that they were not justified by the letter and intent of the treaty. If no other point were to be gained by the treaty now submitted for ratification than the virtual abandonment of the headland theory, that alone would justify its adoption. But there are other advantages in it. Our licensed vessels will have the right of refuge in Canadian harbors, and the right to procure all ordinary supplies. The only exception is that they shall not buy bait; but even this may be overcome if we should hereafter, by legislation, remove the duty on fish, whale, or other oils coming from Canada, Newfoundland or Labrador. The submitted treaty is certainly a great improvement on the treaty of 1818. Indeed, it would be impossible for that treaty to continue in force for many years without provoking war. The statesmanship which has led both countries—Great Britain and the United States—to bring this fair solution to a vexed and dangerous controversy reflects credit upon the advanced intelligence of our time. It is one of those triumphs of peace which Milton so happily alludes to as being more pronounced than those of war. The barriers of a harsh and injurious compact have been broken down, and the doors have been opened to a lasting agreement based on just and equable principles.

A Natural Inheritance.

A glance at the map of the United States will show that the development of the country required a large number of distributing centers which, in time, became important cities and towns, and were necessary to the transaction of the commercial and general business of the country. The largest of these cities will be found about a day's ride from each other. On the Atlantic coast there are the cities of Portland, Boston, Hartford, Providence, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Richmond, Norfolk, Charleston and Jacksonville, fairly, in a commercial sense, equally situated from each other. Under the same rule of distances are the cities of Rochester, Buffalo, Erie, Cleveland, Pittsburg and numerous good-sized cities scattered between them and the seaboard. A ride [illegible] large towns in Ohio leads to Detroit, Toledo, Cincinnati and Louisville. Then come Chicago, St. Louis, Indianapolis, Memphis and Atlanta; the highways to Kansas City, Denver, St. Paul, Salt Lake City and Wichita.

A further study of the map will show that in the Far West San Francisco is, comparatively, the only large city, although many good cities and towns are to be found in the great section of which it is the established metropolis.

Southern California, with an extent of seven hundred miles from San Francisco to the Mexican line, and three hundred miles from Fort Yuma to the sea, has a large number of fine cities and towns within its fertile area, but they are entirely inadequate, both in number and size, to the wants of the vast territory of which they are the needed growth.

Therefore, by natural location, by wealth of natural resources, by superb climatic conditions, and by the territorial need of her existence, Los Angeles is rapidly becoming the metropolis of the richest and grandest portion of the Pacific slope. There is nothing strange, magical nor fearful in this growth. The great mass of Eastern people have gained the knowledge that Southern California is the best place in the world to live in, and the influx of their numbers has simply quickened the growth of Los Angeles. The progress of the Queen City of the Pacific would have been very great with only a normal immigration. Good Eastern friends, who stay at home, need not lie awake nights, or shed tears in fear lest the bottom should drop out of the Los Angeles boom. The growth of the metropolis of the land of corn and wine is founded upon a gracious climate that will not materially change, a mighty breadth of productive land, in which vineyards, orchards and fields of grain shall bloom, yield and enrich as long as man shall exist.

IT would not at all surprise us if San Francisco should be successful in carrying off the site for the holding of the Democratic National Convention. She seems to have nineteen votes against fourteen each for St. Louis and Chicago. There are two fluctuating votes that have gone to each of the other western candidates from our California contestant on various ballots. But she certainly holds the best of the game. The fierce rivalry existing between Chicago and St. Louis will cause the partisans of either of those cities to favor San Francisco if they see the chances of the other in the ascendant. California has keen and able workers in the committee, and strong friends outside. If it is in the cards to bring the convention to this coast it will come. It has been pretty authoritatively thrown out that Mr. Cleveland would be pleased to have the convention come to this State. Whilst the fact of it being held in San Francisco might have no political significance as affecting the popular vote of this coast, yet it would bring many leading people to California who would learn, while here, to appreciate the manifold attractions and the grand destiny of this imperial commonwealth.

THE death of Captain George E. Long takes away from the field of action another living link between the days of the pioneers of this State and the present time. Captain Long was a man of great strength of character. He was clear-headed in business affairs, and direct and purposeful in all his actions His integrity was staunch and invincible. No man was more trusted, or worthy of it, in the active relations of life. Before he came to California, he worked at his trade, that of printer. He was one of that galaxy of old-time printers who were famous in New Orleans over two score years ago. Such men as James Risk, Llewellyn Zublin, Sam. Smith, W. N. Burkhead, "Old Man" Hayes and the subject of this notice, ranked as leading-lights in a business which boasted amongst its members, in other cities, such men as Horace Greeley, Charley Green, Joe. Jourdain and Rosette W. Jones. Captain Long was one of the few printers we ever knew who could find success outside of the business.

WE are to have another grand temple devoted to the drama. Messrs. McLain & Lehman, lessees of Hazard's Pavilion, have secured a ten-years' ground lease of the fine lot belonging to the estate of the late venerable French Consul, M. Morenhout, on Main street, between Second and Third. The lot has a frontage of 80 feet on Main by a depth of 200 feet, widening to 100 feet at the rear. They will erect a fine three story block in front, with a wide corridor leading to the theatre, which will be erected on the rear part of the lot. The location is an excellent one both for business stores and for a popular place of amusement.

THE Southern Pacific Railroad Company are preparing to make great improvements at San Pedro. We have it directly from Col. Charles Crocker that they intend to construct a mole out to deep water from Point Firman, and to build wharves upon it at which deep-sea vessels can lie and discharge cargo into cars. The company is somewhat bothered about finding the stone necessary to form a foundation for the great mole they intend to construct; but if the material cannot be had nearer they will probably bring it in [illegible]

NAPLES BY MOONLIGHT.

Graphic Description by a Los Angeles Girl.

[Written for the HERALD.]

It was midnight in Naples, and I sat on the balcony of the Hotel de Vesuve. I looked out on the beautiful bay, while the moon shed her rays over the old castle. As the silvery light was reflected in the blue waters of the bay, I recalled many pictures I had seen of this enchanting spot. Ever since I have been old enough to appreciate traveling I have wished to see Naples. At last my brightest hope was realized I unconsciously turned my head to the left and I beheld the lurid flame of Vesuvius, with its massive curl of black smoke winding westward, and, taking in the whole panorama—the azure sea, the castle, the dancing reflections of the moon, and the flaming red of the volcano against the bluest of Italian skies—the perfect stillness of the great city made it seem more like a page from some fairy tale than a picture of real life.

It was more than 1800 years ago that Vesuvius poured forth the streams of fire, liquid mud, ashes and red-hot stones that destroyed the ancient cities of Pompeii and Herculaneum, the latter being buried under ninety feet of lava, which, after cooling, hardened into peperino stone, so that the buildings have to be quarried out, and which accounts for the fact that little has been done in comparison with the work of excavation at Pompeii, which was destroyed by cinders alone.

Off to the west is the Island of Capri, and I thought of the fine view obtained from the deck of the steamer, from which one can have an idea of the beautiful situation of Naples and its picturesque surroundings. The shore, the white buildings, the purple hills behind, and the cerulean sky above (perhaps tinted by the smoke of Vesuvius) and the deep blue of the sea—all taken together—make a lovely picture.

Naples is the largest city in Italy, having nearly 500 inhabitants. It is built on the amphitheatral slopes of the hills. The Neapolitans are a very lazy set, living in a warm climate and having little to do. The poorer classes live, eat and dress in the streets, and at night men, women and children roll themselves up in a piece of matting and sleep on the sidewalk. They are a very ignorant and superstitious class of people. The women are treated very badly, and it is not an uncommon occurrence to see a woman, a donkey and an ox drawing a cart, with a real good man (I suppose) behind the team smoking a cigarette.

As the day dawns and the moon drops down behind the hills, I see the milkmen driving around their cows to supply the wants of the better classes. The door of a house opens and a dame comes out with a jug and hails one of these milkmen. He drives up a cow, and, taking a three-legged stool which he always carries with him, sits down and proceeds to milk the docile animal, after which he delivers the non-watered fluid, receives his pay and moves on to another house.

There! I hear the bolts draw in the old prison, built as a castle in 1154, and two horsemen come out, and, as the clanking of the horses' hoofs die away in the stillness of the moon, I am awakened from my reveries by being called downstairs to a so-so breakfast of coffee and rolls, as we are to make an early start for Pompeii.

GEORGE TRUMAN.

Inspected.

Last evening Mr. John K. Ster gave a reception to the general public at his new wholesale parlors on second street. At least two thousand people availed themselves of the opportunity of inspecting this valuable addition to the city. A full band was in attendance and the people pronounced it a tuneful strain. The parlors are one of the most elegant dining rooms on the Pacific coast. It will be open for general business today and the excellence of the viands furnished will be thoroughly tested by hundreds before night-fall.

BORDER-LAND.

The Boundary Lines of Two Counties.

POMONA AND EL CHINO.

A Prosperous City—A Great Town in Embryo—Ranches, Railroads, Hotels and Factories.

The HERALD'S tramp reporter, who is detailed to do up the territory of Southern California, returned last night from Pomona and the Chino Ranch. The S. P. local train carried him out to Pomona on Tuesday. The road is a model of every excellence between this city and Colton, and the country is as pretty as a picture. At Shorb's the grade of the Monrovia rapid transit crosses the S. P. track, and the grade of the S. P. "straddle," to run via the Raymond to Altodena, and thence along the foothills to Monrovia, perhaps further east, is also thrown up north of the main line at the same point. At East San Gatriel the new hotel shows up on the hill, north of the line. It is a very picturesque and attractive looking hostelry. A number of nice cottages have just been built in the immediate vicinity, and the new railway station is a beauty. At Puente there is every appearance of healthy growth, and it is of a substantial sort. The oil works at this point is an encouraging sign of the times. A boom built on such solid foundations as our industry is not a bubble to be burst by every little wind of adversity that may blow on it.

POMONA.

In due time we reached Pomona. A few months ago this was a scattered settlement of fruit growers. The beauty of the landscape, the fertility of the soil, the prosperity of the fruit growers, the intelligent character of the people could not help but attract good people to Pomona. At the last census taken for the purpose of incorporating, and taken correctly, there was found a population of 4000 people in the new city of Pomona. The place to-day has not less than 5000 souls within the municipality. The streets are broad, level, well made, with good sidewalks and pretty shade trees. The style of the residences tells with great emphasis of the substantial condition of the community. There are churches of all denominations, fine schools, and all those humanizing and refining influences which a prosperous, progressive and intelligent people always gather around its homes. Pomona has three banks, stores of all sorts, with large and finely selected stocks of goods. The business portion of the town is of solid brick blocks, two and three stories in height, such as would do credit to a metropolis. The Southern Pacific trains all stop in the heart of Pomona, and along the north borders of its limits the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe runs. The grade is now made across the Chino Ranch for several miles on a standard gauge road to run to Elsinore. Yesterday noon Mr. Chas. Crocker, of the Southern Pacific Company, arrived at Pomona by special train. He was accompanied by Mr. O. Livermore, of San Francisco, and Mr. Pearson. Mr. Gird, of the Chino Ranch, took the party out over his principality, and while the railroad people were entirely non-committal as to the purpose of their visit to Pomona, all signs seemed to point to some intimate connection with this Pomona and Elsinore scheme. Mr. Crocker is known to have visited Southern California for the purpose of giving his personal attention to the great work now being begun at San Pedro. Our seaport is to be greatly improved and to be put on a level with its importance, on account of the great business done there now and the promise of so much greater commercial interests in the immediate future.

THE PALOMARES.

Pomona has in the Palomares Hotel one of the prettiest, most comfortable and best kept hostelries in California. The business of this resort has so much increased of late that a fine large hotel has been added to the old one. It is a model of style and perfect in all its arrangements. In the Palomares the people of Pomona have an institution of which they need not be ashamed.

Yesterday the people of Pomona put up $2200 cold coin to secure a fruit evaporating plant at that place. This will give the fruit growers a good market for their products and a large profit for their industry.

THE CHINO.

From Pomona the reporter visited the townsite laid out on the Chino ranch by its owner, Mr. Richard Gird. The new town is about five miles from Pomona. It is as nearly as possible in the center of the Chino ranch, at the Rancho Santa Ana del Chino, as its full title runs in the original. It is indeed an opulent principality. The ranch embraces 48,000 acres, and every acre is rich land. There are already half a dozen rich artesian wells on the place. Three range in depth at from 150 to 200 feet, and one of them flows 76 miner's inches of water. Mr. Gird has eight or ten outfits at work sinking more wells, some surface and some artesian. For the use of the upper end of the ranch Mr. Gird has secured a large slice of the Cienega from which Pomona acquires her water supply. He will develop a large stream here and pipe it to his lands. The townsite of Chino has already a local habitation as well as a name. There is a control office, a large, well-constructed building, a temporary hotel, a printing office, a real estate office, and one or two other buildings. More are going up in rapid succession. Yes, Chino has a paper, the Chino Champion. It is a well conducted, artistic little sheet, Mr. William Wasson is the accomplished writer, and he is a gentleman of large experience in many walks of life, and an able journalist. He will make a lively journal out of the Champion as his town grows. Chino has two railroads graded through the townsite. One is the Elsinore & Pomona line referred to above. It is intended to reach San Diego by way of Elsinore. The grade is finished up for several miles beyond Chino. The other road is a narrow gauge. It begins at Ontario and runs to Chino some six or eight miles. The bed is graded and the ties and rails strung along all the way to Chino. Some two or three miles of iron is already laid south of Ontario. Inside of two weeks it will be in operation. From Chino it is to run across the low range of hills to the Olinda, or Shanklin ranch, north of Anaheim, thence to the last named point, and so through Anaheim to Alamitos Bay. From Anaheim the road is nearly all graded to the Olinda ranch, and westward iron has been strung along the ground. This section will also be open for business in a very short time. It will be of vast advantage to the new town of Chino by giving the new place direct connection with tidewater.

THE CHINO HORSES.

Mr. Gird has on the Chino ranch 700 head of horses and as many thousand head of cattle. The horses are worthy of special attention. Mr. Gird is doing much towards giving this section an ideal strain of horses for road and general purposes. He has as fine specimens of the equine race as any in the Union. They include great Percherons that will weigh close on to 2000 pounds. These crosses with thoroughbred stock are producing a fine animal. By inbreeding again he gets a horse with plenty of bone and substance and yet with fine action. He has a Cleveland bay, an imported horse of great strength and beauty. A thoroughbred Norfolk is a noble animal. Mr. Gird has a young horse which cost him $100,000. He is by Senator Stanford's Electioneer out of a thoroughbred St. Clair mare. This strain has the best two-year-old record (2:25) extant, and the best four-year-old record, 2:16. Mr. Gird's horse is the last of his race, and the future animals of this pedigree must come from the Chino stables.

THE ROLLING MILLS.

At Chino the big rolling mills are to be located. Among other things to be made there is steel rails. A model for a new patent at the ranch is of great interest to railroad people. It is a composite rail, and of tubular or arch construction. The inside of the rail is of iron. There are two flanges that are screwed to the ties. A small hollow space in the middle of these rails, where the flanges separate, gives passage to air along the ties. Two strong iron sides rise perpendicularly to the horizon with a hollow space in the center. Then comes the steel part which fits over this. The top of it is the part on which the wheels run. The sides fit down over the sides of the iron rail inside. There is a flange which first covers the other flange, and the two screw to the ties. The telegraph wires run in the hollow within the rail, this doing away with the use of poles. The iron part lasts forever. The steel part when worn on one side may be turned around and used on the other. It gives more strength and more traction with the use of less steel. It looks as if it would go.

ONTARIO.

This colony claims a population of 1500 people. There are signs of progress on all sides. Her progressive citizen, Mr. Brooks, is putting up a large brick block. An Angelefio, G. T. Stamm, is owner of a fine block here. Euclid avenue, some 8 miles long, with an electric railway to the very base of the

The narrow gauge to Chino, thence to Anaheim and so to Los Alamitos bay, will help it.

AN ENNIS EXCURSION.

Yesterday afternoon, while the HERALD man stood at the depot waiting for a train, a big excursion train came along. Genial Captain Tip. Layton stopped off, recognized the pencil pusher and invited him to come to the city on his train. The party was delighted with the country as they passed through to the city.

AMUSEMENTS.

Booth and Barrett at the Opera House.

At 10 o'clock last night over a hundred were in line at the Grand Opera House waiting to secure seats for the Booth-Barrett season next week, and judging from indications this engagement will be the largest ever given at the Opera House. The sale of seats will not commence until 10 o'clock today, but there are boys in line who have been there since Tuesday morning early, and who, by the time they have secured the seats they are employed to obtain, will think their wages well earned. The repertoire for the week has heretofore been published in the HERALD, and includes Othello, Hamlet, King Lear, Merchant of Venice, Macbeth and Julius Cæsar. This will probably be the only time that Los Angeles will have the opportunity of witnessing two great tragedians so renowned upon the same stage.

The Minstrels Continue to Braw Crowded Houses.

The patronage which Haverly's Minstrels have been receiving since their arrival here is not diminishing, as was attested by the large audience which assembled to witness their efforts in the Opera House last evening. No noticeable change has been made in the programme as yet, though additional specialties are announced ere the close of the engagement. The departure which has been made from the usual minstrel style of dressing is a very pleasing feature, and the costumes worn by the ballad singers are very handsome and look very effective behind the footlights. Hilton, the "snake man," gives a very remarkable performance, his contortions conveying the idea that he is without any vestige of backbone. His feat of picking up a handkerchief with his teeth while standing on the tops of two chairs must be seen to be believed. The statuesque poses of the Herbert Morello troupe are very realistic and are much admired. A large percentage of the audience anxious to avoid the crush at the exit, leave ere the performance of the last number, but in so doing, they miss one of the most numerous parts of the programme.

Y. M. C. A. Concert.

A good house greeted the Woody Bros.' concert given under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association at the First Congregational Church last night. It was the desire of the brothers that the engagement should be cancelled here on account of the serious illness of Mr. A. M. Woody, who has been confined to his room at Pasadena for some days. However, the parties having the management of the concert would not hear to a postponment and Mr. Fred Nay was prevailed upon to take Mr. Woody's place, which he did acceptably after a short rehearsal.

The following programme was highly appreciated, as evidenced by the frequent applause and hearty encores:

"Remember thy Creator"—Rhodes: "Dancing O'er the Waves"—White; "Who Built the Ark?"—Leslie; "Not Ashamed of Christ"—Danks; "Silent Meditations"—Gifts; Tenor Solo, "Scout;" Fred Nay; "Sweet and Low"—Bomby; "California Laughing Song"—Frank Woody; "Down by the Sea;" Bass solo—Knowlton; "River of Time"—Buker; "Pray Tell Me the Reason"—Hawthorn; Schuberts "Serenade"—Kuntz; "Old and Only in the Way"—M. E. Woody; "Annie Laurie"—Buck; "Old Mother Hubbard"—Leslie. The singers in the Woody concerts are N. N., A. M., M. P., H. A. and Miss Maggie Woody. All are first-class, having naturally good and cultivated voices, but, perhaps, the greatest success of their popular concerts is due to thorough and long training in chorus singing, their voices blending and breaking forth as if from a well-tuned instrument.

EAGLE CORPS.

Ball Last Night at Armory Hall.

The social dance given last evening at Armory Hall by Companies "A" and "C," Eagle Corps, Seventh Infantry Battalion, First Brigade, U. G. C., was very largely attended. Brick for Chino.

Mr. Harrington, of South Riverside, has entered into a contract with Mr. Richard Gird to burn 5,000,000 bricks for building in Chino. These bricks are to be burned on the ranch just south of Chino creek, near the dairy, on the site chosen a couple of weeks since. It is about two miles from this town. The brick are to be the best machine made, and the first delivery is to be not later than May 1st. Mr. Harrington has taken a long lease of the land. He has thoroughly tested the clay and proven it to be the very best he has ever found in a long experience of making brick. Pure water naturally runs over the land.

Here will be one of the largest brick factories in the State. The demands of this section for brick have at all times exceeded the supply. Mr. Harrington says he will make an immense quantity, and will at once order the necessary machines and make all necessary preparations. This is a very important step towards substantial building in Chino. It is a solid step forward and will be followed by others very soon.—[Chino Valley Champion.

The Sewer Pipe Factory.

Governor Merrill had a conversation with President Hewitt, of the Pipe Works, Monday, in the course of which Mr. Hewitt stated that his company had decided to locate here. This semi-official statement was no doubt ratified at the annual meeting of the Sewer Pipe Company held Tuesday, news of which we have been expecting before going to press. The plant for the manufacture of the pipe will cost $100,000, and when it is in operation it will add about 300 to the population of the town. We have abundant reason to congratulate ourselves on this acquisition. —[South Riverside Bee.

Criminal Notes.

Deputy Sheriff T. Botello succeeded in finding the $600 stolen from the safe on the race-track on Tuesday. Botello heard of four men leaving the scene in a hurry, and tracked them to a place behind a barn, where he found the money buried, $385 in gold and the remainder in silver. Early yesterday morning another search was rewarded by the finding of the gold watch under an old pan.

A sum of money was found on the street yesterday by a police officer and is at the

A NEW PRESS

Inspected By the General Public Yesterday.

According to announcement, yesterday the Times press-room was thrown open to the public between the hours of 10 A. M. and 4 P. M., the occasion being the exhibition of the new Hoe press, which it is expected will enable the readers of that paper to read its columns with greater satisfaction. Throughout the hours mentioned a large number of visitors availed themselves of the invitations sent to them, and not only inspected the press, but the composing room and other rooms in the building. Everything was found in good order, and the press worked wonderfully well, its cogs and wheels turning out eight-page folded and pasted sheets at the rate of 10,000 an hour. The Times is to be congratulated upon its latest acquisition.

Birthday Party.

About fifty friends of Henry Stuhr, members of Herman's Sons Lodge, No. 12, and of the Turn Verien, assembled last evening at the residence of Henry Stuhr to celebrate the 39th anniversary of his birth. Mr. Stuhr was consider bly surprised by their appearance, but he made them heartily welcome and the evening was pleasantly spent. Wine flowed freely and the songs were cheering. It was not until nearly midnight that the guests departed, wishing him many happy returns of the occasion.

Santa Ynez Valley Lands

FOR SALE IN LOTS TO SUIT, FROM 10 ACRES UPWARDS.

THE UNDERSIGNED WOULD RESPECTFULLY CALL THE ATTENTION of intending purchasers to the lands of the Santa Ynez Land and Improvement Company, which is without doubt the best investment in California. These lands can be bought in any quantities desired and are as good for the cultivation of Olives, Prunes, Oranges, Walnuts, Almonds, Grapes, or in fact any fruits or vegetables that are grown in Southern California as any lands in Los Angeles county, and can be bought on reasonable terms and at a very small part of the price that would be asked for the same lands here, so that it offers one of the best opportunities to parties selling out here to reinvest. To Eastern purchasers this is one of the best opportunities to invest in lands that are bound to be worth double the price that are now asked for these within a very few months, as both the Southern Pacific and A., T. & S. F. Railroads have surveyed through the entire tract, which will double the value of these lands as soon as completed past this tract.

Descriptive Catalogue, Maps, Price and Terms furnished on appplication.

Every facility will be given purchasers who would like to visit the tract before purchasing. Vehicles will be on hand to take customers over these lands and every thing done to make a visit to this section agreeable.

WASHINGTON'S DAY.

How the Citizen's Enjoyed Themselves.

THE RACES AT THE TRACK.

Successful Balloon Ascension at Agricultural Park. Other Interesting Events.

Yesterday, Washington's Birthday, was generally observed throughout the city by the suspension of business, the exceptions being a few retail establishments. All the public buildings were closed, and this, together with the numerous flags thrown to the breeze and the crowds of persons wandering aimlessly about the streets, marked the day. The building boom, however, appeared unconscious of the fact of a holiday, the work on the many large brick structures being pushed with every available man, as has been characteristic during the past few months. The postoffice was closed in the afternoon, but notwithstanding an observer might have noted the constant arrival of absent-minded and abstracted individuals, who, walking sharply up to the closed delivery windows, stopped short, gazed at the black letters, "closed," then scratching their heads thoughtfully for a few moments, soliloquizing "Humph, Washington's birthday, eh?" took themselves hurriedly to the sidewalk, and went hustling up the street as if they never dreamed of going to the postoffice. The soft breezes and the appearance at dawn of Old Sol without a cloud on his radiant face gave promise that another exceedingly pleasant day would be added to the long list of balmy, cloudless, winter ones, not unlike that of June in the East; hence, many persons took advantage of the cessation in the business field, and sought recreation and rest in an excursion to the country and to the several sea-coast resorts. The morning trains for Santa Monica, Redondo Beach, San Pedro, Long Beach and other points were crowded, and not a few availed themselves of private conveyances.

Three thousand people tempted by the beautiful weather and the prospect of a good day's sport, thronged to the Race Track yesterday afternoon. The first event, a Purse of $150, for pacers and trotters of the 2:30 class, brought out three contestants, Minnie Lee, driven by C. H. Foote; Little Hope, by A. D. Carson and Daisy Gardiner, by W. H. McCarthy. Little or no poolselling was done and promptly to the time appointed a start was made. In the first heat Daisy Gardiner took the lead and held it, holding it all through and won after a smart brush with the pacer Little Hope, by about a length. The first quarter was made in 38, the half in 1:15, the three quarters in 1:53¼ and the mile in 2:31¼. In the second heat Little Hope broke badly soon after the start, allowing Daisy Gardiner to gain a lead which was never reduced, and she won handily in 2:29¼, Minnie Lee having again to put up with third place. In this heat the first quarter took 38, the half 1:15½, the three quarters 1:51½ and the mile 2:29¼. In the third heat Daisy Gardiner again showed her superiority over her opponents, being too speedy for them from the start. Trotting beautifully she soon opened a gap between herself and the pacer, and warming to her work she won under a pull in the good time of 2:28¼. The first quarter was made in 27¼, the half in 1:13¾, the three quarters in 1:49¼, and the mile in 2:28¼. Daisy Gardiner, having won three straight heats, took $100 out of the purse, $50 going to the second, the pacer Little Hope. After the first heat had been decided, Professor Van Tassett ascended in his balloon to the height of several thousand feet, and after hovering for some time in the vicinity of the racecourse was carried by the current of air over the city. As he ascended he threw out great numbers of circulars from his basket, which presented a very pretty appearance glistening in the sun as they descended. The next event in the programme was the ladies' race, distance 10 miles, for a purse of $150, to change horses at the end of each mile. Miss Ella Graham and Madame La Mar were to have competed, but Miss Grace Ross of Los Angeles and Mrs. Ruby Rice of San Diego, in the absence of the former ladies, agreed to contest the purse. In the first mile Miss Rose took a long lead and maintained it till the second mile was completed, but she found herself so exhausted by her efforts as to be unable to continue the race, and she retired leaving Mrs. Rice to finish the ten miles alone. As, in order to win the purse she had to complete the course, this lady pluckily continued on her long ride, though without of course unduly urging her somewhat fractious mounts. Messrs. D. W. Longwell, A. Burnham and Lichtenberger were judges, and Mr. S. Harper, timer, and as might be expected with gentlemen of such experience to direct affairs, everything passed off in the most satisfactory manner.

THE CRESCENT

ADDITION TO MONROVIA,

The Premier Town of Southern California

This beautiful addition lies along the foothills, right in the path of the great building boom that has distinguished Monrovia above every other town in the South.

The property faces south, and is of sufficient elevation to overlook all of Monrovia, Duarte, Azusa, Glendora, Gladstone, Alosta and Covina on the east, and Sierra Madre, Arcadia, Lamanda Park, Olivewood, Pasadena, the Raymond Hotel, Baldwin's and Rose's magnificent ranches, and in fact almost the entire San Gabriel Valley, acknowledged to be the finest and richest in California.

Right adjacent to this tract are the palatial residences of W. N. Monroe, J. M. Studebaker, J. I. Case, Gen. W. E. Pile, Mr. Little and others.

Water, under high pressure, piped through every street.

As this is the finest and most desirable property ever offered in Monrovia, and is designed for handsome homes, there are no lots less than one-half acre, and most of them are one and two acres each.

Inasmuch as there have been innumerable inquiries about this choice property, it has been decided to offer all of the lots, only about 60 in number, on one day, at PUBLIC AUCTION, with no prices attached, permitting the public to fix their own prices. The owner sells the property without reserve, except one lot, upon which he wishes to build a handsome residence, and for this he will bid same as any other purchaser.

You buy the land with its unrivaled location, and get the sunshine, the health-giving climate and the magnificent views for nothing.

A MONSTER EXCURSION.

One Section of the Greatest Arrives.

Early yesterday afternoon there arrived in this city the first section of the big excursion from the East, which, so it is claimed, is the largest one that ever came to California under the management. The train was composed of fifty one or fifty-two coaches, thirty of which were Pullman sleepers, eight or ten emigrant sleepers, and the remainder dining cars and baggage cars. All in charge of the genial Captain Tip Leighton.

The party came via the Missouri Pacific, and Texas and Pacific roads to New Orleans and El Paso, and thence via the Southern Pacific to this city.

The train was divided into five sections of ten cars each, and was run on special time.

The excursionists uttered many exclamations of delight when they felt the warm sun shine upon their faces yesterday afternoon, as they promenaded the streets, after having visited the hotels and cleaning the dust of the journey off their clothes.

They were also very enthusiastic over their trip to this coast, and praised the management for the pleasant manner in which they had been entertained. The scenery also came in for a large share of praise, and all who had ever traveled on excursions before said that they never had experienced so delightful a trip.

It had been stated that this would be the last excursion ever crossing the continent, but the managers state that they think they will be able to run others under the same conditions as this and those of the past.

Following is a list of those who arrived in the first section:

Death of a Noted Race Horse.

Everyone will sympathize with Mr. H. L. Samuels in the very serious loss he has sustained by the death of his well known race horse, Tahoe, which occurred on Tuesday night last. Tahoe was by imported Fechter, out of Maritano, and at the time of his death was four years old. He held an unbeaten certificate, having won the only three events for which he ever competed, and it was fully expected that he would have been able to do the mile this season in 1:40. It was only a short time ago that Mr. Samuels was offered $2500 for his colt, but he preferred to keep him as he considered him one of the fastest horses in California. A post mortem examination of the body showed death to have resulted from inflamation of the kidneys.

MY DEAR SIR: Will you please, on receipt of this note, send to my brother, J. de Barth Shorb, one-half dozen bottles of "Wondrous Liniment" by express. He finds after a very long experience that this liniment of yours is far away the most reliable application he has ever used for aches, pains, stiffness, rheumatism, gout or neuralgia. It is needless to remark that on this subject my brother and myself have but one opinion. Respectfully, Helping the Right Side.

To help the right side is not only commendable in a general point of view, but is judicious and prudent when that help is enlisted in behalf of the right side of the body, just over the lower ribs in the region of the liver. The most efficient help is afforded by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, an anti-bilious medicine of incomparable efficacy. Inaction of the liver is accompanied by constipation, sick-headache, furred tongue, nausea, occasional vertigo, an unpleasant breath, yellowness of the skin and ball of the eye. The author of these symptoms, liver complaints, routed by the Bitters is accompanied by them in its flight. Fever and ague, which always involves the liver, dyspepsia, rheumatism, debility and kidney troubles are all maladies to the early relief and final cure of which this standard medicine is adopted. Don't use it by fits and starts, but systematically, that its full effects may result in a perfect restoration of health.

Water is king in California. Strangers should beware of deception about this indispensable article. Citrus fruits can't be raised without it. Many sellers promise water, but few can show it. The Porter Land and Water Company, First and Spring streets, invite inspection of their lands and water at San Fernando.

Sixty thousand dollars spent in perfecting the water system of the Porter Land and Water Company at San Fernando, and an inspection will show that no system in the valley can compete with it. Go and see for yourself. Office at San Fernando, or First and Spring streets, Los Angeles.

If you don't keep the sewing machines in good order, you know how much trouble it gives you; so you have the oil-can always at hand. Frese's Hamburg Tea is equally efficient in keeping the body in good condition.

CATARRH!

Throat Diseases, Bronchitis, Asthma, Consumption,

Together with Diseases of the Eye, Ear and Heart, and all Chronic Diseases of the Blood, etc., Successfully Treated by

M. HILTON WILLIAMS, M. D. M. C. P. S. O.

HOLLENBECK BLOCK, Corner Second and Spring Sts., Los Angeles, Cal.

All diseases of the respiratory organs treated by the most improved medicated inhalations, combined with proper constitutional remedies for the liver, stomach, blood, etc.

CATARRH.

The term Catarrh is applied to a peculiar disorder of the nostrils and adjacent parts which prevails to an alarming extent, and is productive of very serious consequences.

The most prominent and characteristic feature is a morbid discharge from the head, varying in its nature at different times.

In some there is an almost constant flow of clear, acrid fluid, but oftener an offensive, purulent or muco-purulent, greenish yellow matter is secreted, which accumulates in the nostrils or drops into the throat, necessitating its frequent removal by blowing the nose or expectoration, and often by both processes. Sometimes patients feel as though their whole head was in a state of rottenness, so great is the amount of matter discharged and so fœtid is its odor. The patient is greatly annoyed by the constant dropping into the throat of the morbid matter from the head, and as a recumbent position naturally favors the flow downward, his rest is frequently disturbed from this cause. Many sufferers are obliged to lie with the head very much elevated in order to sleep with some degree of comfort.

In others, a tough, viscid and offensive phlegm collects behind and above the soft palate, in the passage between the throat and head, adhering to the parts with ginish tenacity. Its lodgment embarrasses respiration and creates a sensation of irritation and uneasiness in the affected locality, which gives rise to a constant and almost irresistible desire to relieve the discomfort by drawing the mucus into the throat so as to reject it by the mouth. This practice, popularly known as "hawking," is characteristic of Catarrh, and proves as embarrassing to the one affected, as it is disagreeable to those around him.

Again, the offensive matter hardens and deposits itself on the membrane in the shape of dry, hard concretions, which are discharged by the way of the nostrils or throat in lumps or fragments of a deep green tint. In some cases these incrustations accumulate to such an extent as to form a regular plug in the nose, which obstructs breathing and produces serious discomfort. So firmly do these incrustations adhere to the point of attachment that their removal usually requires the most violent efforts and not unfrequently they have to be torn from the membrane. Occasionally a solid cast of notable size is expelled on which there are generally traces of blood, but in some cases the cast presents a tubular appearance, being of exact shape of the nasal cavity. This condition is indicative of ulceration, which, in time, may destroy the bony structure of the nose and produce a subsequent flattening of that organ.

Cases are occasionally met with in which a thick, viscid, slimy secretion coats the membrane of the nasal cavities and then putrefies, giving rise to a stench which is really overpowering, and sufficiently fetid to poison the atmosphere of a whole room, and there are others in which all secretions of the membrane are suspended, causing an unpleasant feeling of dryness, heat, and feverishness in the head and nose—a condition popularly known as "Dry Catarrh."

The disease speedily extends to the air cavities of the bones of the forehead and face, giving rise to a distressing sensation of heavy weight or compression over the forehead, especially in the region above and between the eyes, and to a feeling of fullness, heat, irritation, soreness or pain in the nostrils near the root of the nose, as well as in the upper part of the throat, above, and behind the soft palate. Sometimes there is pain obstinately fixed in some particular part, as in the temples, on the top of the head, at the back of the neck, or behind the orbits, and, occasionally, pain manifests itself in the face of so severe a character that it is frequently mistaken for neuralgia.

The breath is always tainted and at times assumes an exceedingly fetid and sickening odor. In some cases it becomes so revoltingly offensive as to render the sufferer an object of disgust to himself as well as to others.

The nasal membrane is thickened and congested, causing the nose to be stopped up, sometimes on one side, sometimes on the other, and often on both, giving rise to a disagreeable stuffy sensation in the head, and occasionally to violent and prolonged paroxysms of sneezing.

The voice is weak, indistinct and husky, or of a nasal character, displaying a sort of sniffling quality. Oftentimes there is a continuous hoarseness and discordance. There is also a sense of irritation in the throat, and frequent attempts to clear the parts of phlegm, producing the sound "hem" more or less forcibly. In some cases patients complain of an uncomfortable feeling of fullness, or a choky sensation in the throat, and in others of a distressing and almost constant dryness, for the temporary relief of which they have to swallow frequently. Others again speak of a constant bad or nauseous taste in the mouth and throat.

The stomach generally suffers more or less and becomes weak and irritable; the appetite is capricious and nearly always bad in the morning. The patient is languid, unable to perform mental or physical labor with the usual facility, is nervous, depressed in spirits, at times, fearful, timid, agitated, and inclined to drowsiness and sleep; the memory weakened, and permanent impairment seriously threatened.

The mucous membrane soon becomes morbidly sensitive to unfavorable influences, and, in spite of the utmost care, becomes affected from the slightest causes, so that at last a breath of wind upon the lining of the nose or throat becomes productive of a cold, and gives rise to serious disturbances of the respiratory organs. Thus the patient is subject to frequent and repeated colds, each attack aggravating the disease by giving it a new impulse, and involving a larger extent of surface than its predecessor. In this manner the difficulty spreads from organ to organ, invading the throat, larynx, trachea and bronchial tubes, until, encroaching further and further, it reaches the finer ramifications of the bronchi, when but a slight impulse is required to send it to the lungs. Catarrh may, and often does, affect other organs in the body, especially those containing a mucous membrane, such as the Stomach, Bowels, Kidneys, &c.

Thus catarrh becomes the starting point of consumption development, the disease being eventually transmitted to the lungs, both by nervous connection and continuity of surface.

So frequently has this fatal course been noticed that all those who are thoroughly conversant with the subject now look upon catarrh as a premonition and one of the very earliest manifestations of consumption.

Inhalations are applicable in all diseases of the respiratory organs, but must be prepared for each individual case as they severally require.

Persons desiring treatment by this system of practice can use the remedy at home as well as at our office, and which will cause no inconvenience or hindrance to business whatever.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless unless both lungs are seriously involved. Even then the inhalations aid us in dissolving the mucus and in contracting and healing the cavities, which nothing else can do with the same success. The very best references from those already cured.

CONSULTATION FREE.—Those who desire to consult with me in regard to their cases had better call at the office for consultation and examination, but, if impossible to do so, can write for a copy of my Medical Treatise, containing a list of questions Address
